

Have this Tax Season Make Your Money Work

Ways to Financially Benefit from your Tax Return

- ▶ Low- and moderate-income workers qualify, each year, for an Earned Income Tax Credit that can put over $1,000, and often more than $2,000, in your pocket. Why not use half or more of this free money to set up an emergency savings account or start saving for higher education, a car, or a home!
- ▶ Even if you don't qualify for the earned income tax credit, you can save a portion or all of your tax return to establish a savings account or build up an existing account.
- ▶ It's easy to spend a tax return on new electronics or an expensive night out. Challenge yourself this year to use your tax return towards accomplishing your financial goals.

With spending being so easy these days, it's no surprise that saving isn't. You could enroll as a Saver, open a savings account and start making automatic deposits to that account – which could save you thousands of dollars a year. That's money that could go towards continuing education for you or your children, a new car, or even early retirement. Because what starts with something as simple as saving instead of spending your tax return, is laying the foundation for a wealthier future. One that quite possibly could involve a graduation cap and gown, a spot behind a new set of wheels, or a beautiful new address.
